!!!Portland State University

*A biennial survey, "Beyond the Grey Pinstripes" ranked Portland State's MBA program first in the world for schools with fewer than 100 full-time students

*All on-campus MBA students participate in an international business experience

*The management and leadership undergraduate program is also available online

Founded in 1946, Portland State University (PSU) is home to over 28,000 students. In 1952, the school moved to its current location in the south park blocks in Portland, OR. PSU offers more than 200 degree programs.

PSU's School of Business Administration offers a bachelor's degree in management and leadership and an MBA.

Undergraduate business students majoring in management and leadership must complete a minimum of 24 credit hours in management. Required courses include human resource management, working in teams, study of leadership issues and organizational design. Students must also take an upper-division course in management.

The MBA program is available on campus and online, in full- and part-time options. Students can complete this program in two to three years, depending on full- or part-time status. Courses include financial reporting, technology in organizations and operations management. Students round out their schedule by taking at least 16 elective credits in topics of their choosing.
